FREIGHT CAR AND BIG PASSENGER CAR MEET IN HEAD-ON COLLISION

Eight Persons Injured in Accident Last Night at Riverview Switch Near Monongahela

SIGNALS MISUNDERSTOOD

Cause Supposed to be Due to Mixup at Siding---No One Thought to be Fatally Injured

When a large passenger car of the Pittsburg-Charleroi line and a freight car collided head on last night near the Riverview switch, eight persons were injured. Both cars were demolished. The accident occurred at about 5:30 o'clock and a misunderstanding of signals is supposed to have been the cause.

THE INJURED.

A. D. Dock, freight messenger, Pittsburg; cut about the face, head and body.

Joseph A. Herron, of Monongahela; cut about the face and head, bruised about the body.

Mrs. Joseph A. Herron; bruised and cut about the face and head; several teeth knocked out.

A. K. Coulson of Monongahela; bruised about the face, head and legs.

Miss Mary Wilson of Finleyville; lip cut and several teeth knocked out.

J. A. Ruch, Rochester, Pa., nose broken and otherwise injured about the head and face.

Charles Hunter, Pittsburg; cut and bruised, laceration of the scalp.

Miss Jane Mills, Pittsburg; bruised about the face, head and body; taken to her home.

The freight car was following another car, which had been passed by the north bound passenger car No. 3001 The north bound car was traveling at a fast rate of speed when it took the siding.

When nearing the switch at Riverview Motorman William Wier noticed that a freight car had also taken the siding and was rapidly advancing. He immediately applied the brakes and his car was slowing as it met the freight car, which had Bartley Burke at its motor.

Both motormen escaped serious injury by jumping from the cars Dr. Frank Linn of Monongahela hurried to the scene and attended the injured. He found Dock the most seriously hurt. The man had been thrown among the heavy freight with which his car was laden.

Conductor J. A. Wallace of the passenger car says he had taken the single track, as the signal light permitted. According to his statement the car approaching from an opposite direction would have been shown a red light, warning it againt entering the single track.

Bartley Burke, motorman of the freight car, say the light at the northern end of the single stretch was for him to proceed. He had little time, he says, to check the speed of her car, as the meeting occurred on a curve.

Pennsylvania Has Orphanage

Railroad Company Supports School for Children of Employes

Notices have been sent out by superintendents of the various divisions of the Pennsylvania Railroad calling attention to the St. John's Orphanage, No. 1722 Rittenhouse street, Philadelphia. The privileges of this orphanage are for the daughters of men who have been killed while in the discharge of their duties in the service of the Pennsylvania Railroad company and affiliated lines.

The St. John's Orphanage was endowed by John Edgar Thomson, late President of the company; it is for girls who are taken under agreement with the mother or guardian, and free of charge given a plain education, taught household work, cooking and sewing.

TOWNSHIP SUED FOR DAMAGES

Washington County Man Asked $15,000 From Rostraver

DAUGHTER IS INJURED

Rostraver township, which adjoins Monessen, has been made defendent in a damage suit for $15,000 by McIlvaine and Williams of Washington representing A. F. Dougherty of this county, on behalf of his minor daughter, Miss Mildred Dougherty.

From the papers in the case it is stated that plaintiff's daughter while riding on horseback April 25, 1910 at a point along the road between Webster and Monessen in Westmoreland county, the animal upon which she was mounted by reason of the delapidated condition of a wooden bridge spanning a ravine was thrown, the rider sustaining, it is alleged, injuries of a permanent character.

Rostraver is noted, it is stated for its bad roads, and only a few years ago, Dr. Griffith was awarded damages to the extent of $10,000 on account of an accident, due it is claimed, to the bad roads. Every effort has been put forth recently to have the road in the township improved.

SUPPOSED MAD DOG BITES ALL MEMBERS OF STEVENS FAMILY

Monessen People Taking Pasteur Treatment as Preventive for Hydrophobia-- Small Boys Bitten

Every member of the family of George H. Stevens president of the Monessen council, is taking the Pasteur treatment at Pittsburg owing to having been bitten by a dog supposed to have been afflicted with rabies. A medical examination of the dog after it had died proved it to be mad.

The animal was a pet bull pug-pup which the children kept in the house a great deal of the time. William, the eldest son was bitten first. No attention was paid to the matter but several days after a boy by the name of Calvin Kratzer living next door, to the Stevens home was bitten. Then the dog began to show symptoms of rabies. Other members of the Stevens family were bitten. Finally after it had bitten the Kratzer child it went out into the yard and died Each of the family upon the advice of a physician who examined the body of the dog began taking treatment. It will be necessary to take daily trips to Pittsburg for the next three weeks.

Realize Snug Sum by Social

Good Work of Members and Officers Recognized by Protected Home Circle

About $23 was realized last evening by the Protected Home Circle, by a box social. The money will be added to the "Charity Fund." Features were a post card and valentine shower to C. E. Velletay the occasion being his 27th birthday. Local deputy H. Booth presented Mr. Velletay—with a fine good fountain pen as a token of appreciation for his good work during the last year.

Several members of the Circle also remembered him with a few much needed articles, and to cap the climax he was presented with a few such things as a wig, hair tonic, brush and comb, some kids, device more than needed by a bald-headed man. Mr Booth was presented with an elegant gold signet ring by the grand and supreme officials for his work in securing 117 new members.

OIL HOUSE KNOCKED DOWN BY STREET CAR

The oil shed at the North end of the Charleroi barn of the Pittsburg Railway barn was torn down yesterday by being struck by one of the big Pittsburg cars. The car was entering the company when it split the switch and hit against the building, which was a brick structure. Considerable damage was done as a result.

ATHENE CLUB ENJOYS INTERESTING PROGRAM

An interesting meeting of the Athene Club was held yesterday afternoon, with Miss Minnie Richardson as the hostess, at her home on Lincoln avenue. Mrs. Thomas Brown discussed "Mineral Wealth of South America." A parliamentary drill was given under direction of Mrs. E. C. Niver. The roll call was answered by giving important dates in South American history.

Card of Thanks

Gratefully we acknowledge the many kindnesses shown us by friends and neighbors during the recent illness and death of our beloved husband and father, and we most sincerely extend thanks to them. Especially we wish to thank the Ladies Aid society of the First Presbyterian church, members of the Charleroi Aerie of Eagles, Charleroi Turn Verein and Modern Woodmen of America, for their beautiful remembrances.

Morris Sent to Workhouse

Negro Charged With Cutting White Man is Sentenced

Page Morris, colored, of Charleroi, was found guilty yesterday of the charge of felonious assault and battery. He is the colored man who so badly cut John M. Ferry at the Hotel Arthur on the evening of February 7 He was sentenced to pay the costs, a fine of $1 and to undergo imprisonment in the workhouse for one year. Dick and Cecil Trippett, also colored, who were mixed up in this trouble, were found guilty of simple assault and battery. They were sentenced to pay the costs, fine of $1 and to undergo imprisonment in the county jail for 30 days.

COAL DIGGERS ARE WONDERFUL SINGERS

The opportunity of hearing such a stellar aggregation of vocalists as the Mountain Ash Male Chorus, which appears at the Coyle Theatre, Monday evening, February 27, is one which rarely falls to the lot of the average concert-goer. The organization, as it will sing in Charleroi, is composed of 24 vocalists, together with the conductor and accompanist. Of that number, all but two follow the vocation of a coal miner. Even the conductor, Prof. T. Glyndwr Richards than whom there is none better—has spent most of his lifetime in the mines in his native land, and when at home, follows the occupation of check weigher. John Webber, the capable pianist and accompanist, and a fine performer on the pipe organ as well, is engaged underground as a haulier.

Notwithstanding the fact that the Mountain Ash boys spend their days hundreds of yards down in the bowels of the earth, among the many dangers which usually beset the life of a coal miner, they devote their evenings unstintingly to the study of the better class of music, as well as the cultivation and development of their voices; and by dint of persistent rehersal for many years past, they have ultimately achieved fame all over Europe by their magnificient work as a chorus. The soloists are experienced vocalists, and the combined effort of soloists and chorus will conduce to an evening's enjoyment such as cannot fail to please.

Aged Woman is Severely Hurt

Mrs. Reazen Frye Sustains Fractured Hip in Fall

Mrs. Reazen Frye, mother of John H. Frye and Mrs. S. J. Richardson, of Charleroi, is suffering from a fractured hip sustained yesterday evening in a fall near her home at Monongahela. Mrs. Frye, who is nearing her 86th birthday has been sick for some time but lately recovered sufficiently to leave the house, and last evening started out to visit a neighbor. She was cleaning her feet at the doorstep when she lost her balance and fell, breaking the left hip bone.

COUPLE QUIETLY WEDDED

Miss Effie Provance and John Condon are Married

TAKING WEDDING TRIP

After being kept secret for nearly a week the news of the marriage of Miss Effie B. Provance, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Provance of Fifth street and Meadow avenue, and John Condon, a prominent American Steel and Wire employe of Donora, leaked out this morning. The couple were married on last Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock by Rev. W. D. Fries, pastor of St. Jerome's Catholic church, in his parsonage, and the happy couple immediately hied themselves away in the vicinity of Uniontown for a wedding visit with relatives of Mr. Condon After a short visit they will return to reside in Donora.

Miss Provance is a well known and highly esteemed young lady. For about three years she has been employed by the Mail Publishing company. She was highly regarded by her employers as one of their most steady workers. The couple are tendered the congratulations and best wishes of a host of friends.

Feed for the Hungry

The ability of the Ladies of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church in serving Chicken and Noodles has demonstrated several times during the past years. They are going to give the public another chance to get some of these good things next Wednesday when their annual Washington Birthday Dinner and Supper will be given. Dinner will be served at 11 o'clock and supper at 4:30. Tickets cost 35 cents, but they are worth more.

COMMISSION TO BE APPOINTED TO LOOK AFTER NEW COUNTY MATTER

Committee Will Consist of One Man From Each of Towns Projecting the Scheme

BELLE VERNON MEETING

Representatives From Different Places Attend and Enthusiasm is Aroused---The Probable Cost

Representative from various towns in the valley interested in the new county movement met last night with the Civic League of Belle Vernon and preliminary plans for the campaign in favor of the scheme were developed.

To investigate from all points of view the feasibility of the plan the probable cost, etc., a commission will be appointed, to consist of one man from each of the towns.

It was the general concensus of opinion at the meeting that in case the new county was formed taxation would not be increased to withstand the extra expense, but if anything reduced, owing to the fact of the large amount of live real estate in the territory.

J. B. Schafer and W. C. Clark were present from Charleroi and spoke in favor of the movement. H. Dallas McCabe of Monessen outlined the scheme and men from other towns spoke.

REV. RICHARDS PREACHES SERMON TO YOUNG PEOPLE

At the Methodist Church last night Rev. F. A. Richards, preaching on "A young woman's wise choice," said:

"It is better to be in the Lord's land than in the land of strangers. The Christian may have his trials, but he who isn't a Christian has more and worse ones. A man without Christ has to carry his burdens unassisted, while the Christian has an Almighty Help. "There is no room in the soul for more than one God, ye cannot serve God and mammon. A choice must be made. Christ is the best master."

Tomorrow a large number of candidates will be admitted to church membership and the sermon will be especially addressed to them. As there was a full house last Sunday night it is expected that the church will be crowded to its utmost capacity on next Sunday night.

Senseless Objection

Because the Constitution prohibits the State from contracting debt except to "supply casual deficiencies in revenue, repel invasion, supress insurrection, defend the State in war, or to pay existing debts," opposition has sprung up against the proposition to amend the constitution to bond the State for $50,000,000 to build the roads proposed in the Sproul road bill. This bill proposes a comprehensive system of roads constructed and maintained by the State, starting out with improvement of 5,000 miles at one fell swoop. To make these improvements requires the expenditure of a big sum of money, but it is believed that it will be in the interest of good public policy and economy to amend the constitution to borrow this money, in order that the people may have the benefit of the good roads while paying for them.

The opposition that has developed is the same senseless objections that are always interposed when a municipality or county proposes to issue bonds to make needed public improvements. It is not expected that the present generation will bear the entire burden of debt, but that the benefit of the improvements will more than offset the cost of paying interest and providing for a sinking fund as the years go by. As to changing the Constitution—what of it? As the late President James A. Garfield used to say, "The creator is always greater than the creature."

Chickens and Poultry

While the poultry craze that is affecting the people of the towns and villages may not result in materially increasing the egg production as a food product, it may eventually develop the backyard plan of raising chickens, which is essentially a factor in domestic economy. A few chickens in the backyard canusually be kept on the waste of the household, and will produce enough eggs to make their keep a profitable investment.

There is a distinctionand a difference between poultry-raising and keeping chickens. Poultry-raising involves big investments in blooded stock, incubators, brooders and other paraphernalia. To feed poultry requires a Philo diet plan, ground bone, "scratch," whatever that may be, ensilage, oyster shelll and an additional menu of considerable proportions. Poultry chicks have to be coddleb, bathed and their toe nails cut, all of which is well enough for tbose who have got time to kill and money to burn.

With chickens it different. Chickens have no pedigree. Like the mule, they have no pride in ancestry or hope of posterity. Their pathway of glory does not lead to the bench show, but to the pot or roasting pan. Chickens have nothing to do but to lay eggs, and this they usually do all right. Their feed is the scraps from the table, while their abiding place is usually a piano or a dry goods box. Chickens do their own hatching and brooding, and the young chicks are usually kept in an overturned barrel laid flatways on the ground with some stakes driven in front for slats. If one dies by other means than the axe, or a neighbor's cat or dog kills one, the loss is not irreparble. It is just the plain chicken that is producing the eggs of commerce and utility, and this homely fowl is a commercial asset at any and all times. Poultry-raising is good for show and pleasure, and it of-times starts people into the real chicken business, which adds to the wealth of the community.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

Occasionally old Washington county does pull off a star coal selling stunt.

Whatever may be said against or for Washington, Pa., it certainly can be given the credit of going after industrial plants and getting about what it goes after.

Strange to say it creates more excitement for a man of 90 years to die than it does for a man of 50 years, although it is a more natural thing.

No matter how many times a town fails at supporting a good baseball team, it is ever ready to tackle the proposition again—until it gets a church league.

It has come to such a pass that over in Scottdale, the people shoot at the police as suspicious characters.

If being Chief of Police consists of piling out of bed every blessed night of the year to answer some fool call, thank you, Albright can keep it, and be more than welcome.

A Leisenring miner tried to break a safety lamp while at work. He should at least be learned to be particular about the lives of other people even if he is not about his own.

New York society had a sight of vaudeville and real blood the other night when a young millionaire got himself licked by wishing to fight a pugilist.

Eggs are coming down in price but it's an unanswered problem just what matches are going to do.

Excursions will soon be in order to those Mexican points where the vaudeville warfare is still at its worst.

About one of the hardest jobs making a living at nowadays is being the sparing partner of a professional pugilist. Besides it is a dangerous occupation, considering that the pugilist might some day get in a bad humor.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

A woman, accompanied by a ten or twelve-year old lad entered the office of John Jenkins, Esq., recently. She informed the 'Squire that she hailed from Donora, and that she desired a warrant for the one of the school principals there for cruelly beating her son. Mistrusting that the boy only got what was lawfully coming to him, 'Squire Jenkins asked if the boy were marked. In reply the woman unbottened the boy's trousers and produced evidence which the 'Squire called "Exhibit A."

"Whoever did the paddling did a good job all right," said the justice, "but I suppose the young cub didn't get a lick amiss, so I told the woman she had better enter proceedings at Donora.

"'What would you do first?' she asked.

"'Well' I'd show that exhibit to the school board,' I replied, and the woman departed, declaring that the board would be shown the results of the padding."

"Did you know that there was such a distinction as a western haircut and an eastern haircut?" asked George Young, the well known barber, the other day. "I didn't know this myself until I went to Boston three or four years ago, where I got a job in the State House barber shop. One of my first cutomers for a hair cut was one of the State Senators. I started in as usual and when I began cutting around his ears he gave a yell that nearly scared me out of my shoes.

"'Hi, yi!" he hollered, "I don't want a western hair cut!'

"The boss came running over to my chair, and then I learned that nearly all the eastern men affected 'sluggers' in front of their ears, instead of having their hair cut straight across, as they do in the Pittsburg district. After that I asked each customer if he wanted his 'sluggers' extended or abbreviated."

Speaking of the trials and tribulations of hot air furnaces, Capt. J. K. Hain tells a good story about the experience of the Christian church congregation along that line that occurred when they were in the structure on the hill now occupied by the Russian Orthodox church. The building was heated with a hot air furnace that never did work right. After spending much time and money trying to make the thing heat, the trustees had about decided to throw the furnace out, when C. B. Copeland was called to look it over, as he was the handy man about town when things of that nature went wrong Mr. Copeland was called, and soon had the furnace in first class shape.

The following Sunday the atmosphere inside was as balmy as a spring morning, although it was nearly zero weather outside. People remained away from the morning service because of the knowledge that the furnace didn't work, but the word was spread abroad that everything was all right, and the evening service was thronged. Everything went along all right until the pastor prepared to administer the rite of baptism to some candidates. When the cover was removed from the baptismal font, a cloud of steam arose, which indicated that the furnace had gotten in its work so well that the water was scalding hot. The baptisms had to be delayed until the hot water could be drawn off and the font refilled with cold water.

So grateful were the trustees that Mr. Copeland was instructed to send in his bill and it would be paid promptly. The items were as follows:

"Material for fixing furnace, $1 50; knowing how, $5.00."

Waterspouts.

A waterspout is a miniature tornado originating in a strong upward draft of air which occurs above the surface of a body of comparatively warm water. Its effect first becomes visible in a circular motion at the point in the clouds to which it ascends. This becomes a whirl, which condenses the vapor at its center, causing the portion of the cloud there to drop downward in the shape of a gigantic jelly bag. At the same time the continuing upward draft increases the rapidity of its original swirl and the condensed vapor caught within it until the ascending and descending masses join to form the waterspout. Necessarily by this process the air beneath the spout is rarefied, and thus where the phenomenon occurs at sea the water always seems to be sucked up into it, although this is not really the case to any considerable extent. For similar reasons where a waterspout or tornado passes over a building it does most of its damage by exhausting the air outside, causing what is within to expand and blow the structure to pieces.

His Good Action.

A little Canadian boy went to bed and then suddenly recollected that he hadn't done one good action that day. His conscience was gnawing at him. He heard a little squeal in the corner of his room, and he got up and released a mouse that had been caught in the trap. Then he gave it to the cat.

HELPFUL HINTS ON HAIR HEALTH

Scalp and Hair Troubles Generally Caused by Carelessness

Dandruff is a contagious disease caused by a microbe which also produces baldness. Never use a comb or brush belonging to some one else. No matter how cleanly the owner may be, these articles may be infected with microbes, which will infect your scalp. It is far easier to catch hair microbes than it is to get rid of them and a single stroke of an infected comb or brush may well lead to baldness. Never try on anybody else's hat. Many a hat band is a resting place for microbes.

If you happen to be troubled with dandruff, itching scalp, falling hair or baldness, we have a remedy which we believe will completely relieve these troubles. We are so sure of this that we offer it to you with the understanding that it will cost you nothing for the trial if it does not produce the results we claim. This remedy is called Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. We honestly believe it to be the most scientific remedy for scalp and hair troubles, and we know of nothing else that equals it for effectiveness, because of the results it has produced in thousands of cases.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic devised to banish dandruff, restore natural color when its loss has been brought about by disease, and make the hair naturally silky, soft and glossy. It does this because it stimulates the hair follicles, destroys the germ matter, and brings about a free, healthy, circulation of blood, which nourishes the hair roots, causing them to tighten and grow new hair. We want everybody who has any trouble with hair or scalp to know that Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is the best hair tonic and restorative in existence and no one should scoff at or doubt this statement until they have put our claims to a fair test, with the understanding that they pay us nothing for the remedy if it does not give full and complete satisfaction in every particular. Two sizes 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Charleroi only at our store—The Rexall Store. Carroll Drug Store, 623 Fallowfield avenue.

DANGER IN DELAY

Kidney Diseases Are Too Dangerous for Charleroi People to Neglect

The great danger of kidney troubles is that they get a firm hold before the sufferer recognizes them. Health is gradually undermined. Backache, headache, nervousness, lameness, soreness, lumbago, urinary troubles and dropsy following merciless succession. Don't neglect your kidneys. Cure the kidneys with the safe remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills, which has cured people right here in Charleroi Mrs. Robert Coulter, 207 Prospect avenue, Charleroi, Pa., says: "Some years ago my son contracted the measles and on recovering I noticed that his kidneys were very weak. He had no control over the kidneys secretions and this was especially annoying at night. I had often seen Doan's Kidney Pills highly advertised in the local papers and was finally induced to procure a supply at Piper Bros. Drug Store. I had my son use them according to directions and before long he was greatly benefitted."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

In Memorium

At a regular meeting of Branch No. 782, L. C. B. A., held Wednesday evening, February fifteenth, nineteen hundred eleven, the following resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, It has pleased Almighty God to remove from our midst our beloved sister, Mrs. Catharine O'Connor, who was an active and faithful member of our Branch; and

Whereas, Feeling the loss we sustained in her demise, and the great and irreparable loss to her husband and daughter, it is

Resolved, That we extend our heartfelt sympathy, and pray that our dear Lord in his boundless mercy may comfort them.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the bereaved family, a copy sent to the town paper for publication, a copy spread upon the records of our Branch, and our charter draped in mourning for a period of thirty days.

HAVE YOU TRIED PAXTINE

The Great Toilet Germicide?

You don't have to pay 50c or $1.00 a pint for listerian antiseptics or peroxide. You can make 16 pints of a more cleansing, germicidal, healing and deodorizing antiseptic solution with one 25c box of Paxtine,—a soluble antiseptic powder, obtainable at any drug store.

Paxtine destroys germs that cause disease, decay and odors,—that is why it is the best mouth wash and gargle, and why it purifies the breath, cleanses and preserves the teeth better than ordinary dentifrices, and in sponge bathing it completely eradicates perspiration and other disagreeable body odors. Every dainty woman appreciates this and its many other toilet and hygienic uses.

Paxtine is splendid for sore throat, inflamed eyes and to purify mouth and breath after smoking. You can get Paxtine Toilet Antiseptic at any drug store, price 25c and 50c, or by mail postpaid from The Paxton Toilet Co., Boston, Mass., who will send you a free sample if you would like to try it before buying.

The White Whale.

The white whale, or beluga, is an arctic cetacean and closely allied to the narwhal. It is pure white in color, twelve to eighteen feet long, whalelike in form, with a huge muzzle and numerous sharp conical teeth.

The white whale swims with extraordinary speed by doubling its huge tail under its body and then striking out with it. Scientists who have studied it in its natural environs say that it is able to catch the swiftest of fishes, often pursuing its prey far up the northern rivers. It is gregarious and may be seen at times in herds of forty or fifty.

These herds not infrequently gambol around boats in the arctic seas, and the natives of Greenland often capture them with harpoons or nets. The flesh of the white whale, in fact, is a considerable source of food supply to them. From it also is derived one of the finest grades of commercial oil. The skins are tanned and the leather sold in the trade as "porpoise hide."—New York Times.

AMONG THE THEATRES

The Palace—Charleroi.

A Lubin film photoplay was the leading feature at the Palace Theatre this week This was "A Double Elopment." Walter Thompson and Lilly Brown were in love but Lily's mother refused to allow her daughter to be married. So Walter asked his father to intercede for him. Father was a widower, but he wanted to help his son and readily agreed to see Lily's mother on the subject. Now Lily's mother was a middle-aged widow and very good looking too. When Mr. Thompson saw her, all his scruples against a second marriage disappeared. While the young folks were worrying over the outcome, their parents were carrying on an ardent courtship. They decided to get married, but they would not let their children know of it. Meantime the children had made a similar decision and would not let their parents know of it. Both parties decided to elope. Both Walter and his father, brought their ladders to the house on the same night. Both did the ladder act about the same time and both couples hurried to the minister's. If it hadn't been the same minister, they might never have found each other out. However, as it was, they met blushed, apologized, laughed. Then came the double wedding.

"Just for a Dear Little Girl" a beautiful illustrated ballad, was one of Louis Brusa's popular songs He has a new one for tonight, When Friendship Turns to Love." "Night and Day" was a beautiful classic song by John Evers, the popular Welsh tenor.

The Coyle—Charleroi

The popularity of Geo. Barr McCutcheon's "Graustark," which in book form was a notably successful one, is cause enough for theatre-goers to wish to see the play which has been dramatized by Geo. D. Baker, with McCutchen's book as the basis

It is many years since a novel of romance reaped such a well earned reputation. The dramatized version has scored equally as great a success as the book due to the clever work of the dramatist, who has followed as closely as possible, the lines and situations evolved by the author in his novel. The story of the two Americans, who, through pluck and grittiness, latent qualities in our people, manage to overcome the many intrigues and plots against them and finally win out the lady each of them is in love with, is a pretty one. Brimful of comedy lines and situations, and a love story of unusual interest, combine to make the play an exceptionally clever one. The locale of "Graustark" lends itself admirably to gorgeus scenic environments, which are further enhanced by the costumes of the country in which the action of the play occurs. The cast is an excellent one, not a member of same being misplaced.

"Graustark" will be the attraction at the Coyle Theatre March 25.

A modern play to be produced at the Coyle Theatre March 22 is called "The Rosary," written by Edward E. Rose and produced by the well known theatrical managers, Messrs. Rowland and Clifford.

Quietly and modestly, with no blaze of trumpets, it projects a quiet word into court a tumoil of opinions, which many believe will revolutionize our ethics of marriage and divorce; as an illustration "The Rosary" takes you into the heart of an American home, such as our homes are today. It shows peace and happiness, then suddenly a canker sore is unmasked—lack of faith in the husband. Slowly little by little is seen the devastating power of atheism, how it saps the strength and breaks the will so that when doubt and suspicion creep in they find fertile soil for the descendants—hatred and revenge. Then comes the spiritual power of a great man—a priest whose life is given to mankind. Slowly he analyzes the situation and leads the husband and wife whom he loves, out of the darkness to happiness and peace.

The Alvin—Pittsburg

Mrs. Leslie Carter will be at the Alvin theatre for the week beginning on Monday night, in the latest successful play, "Two Women" by Rupert Hughes, under the management of John Cort.

"Two Women" affords Mrs. Carter an opportunity to display in one drama all her histrionism, and to display effectively. In the first act she is seen as a poor seamstress, the wife of Count Remy de Margyl, a man who has wasted two fortunes in dissipation, but under the beautiful influence of Jeannette he regains his character and it making a brave effort to relieve the poverty that oppresses them. Just as fortune again smiles upon him, she dies.

The second act shows a room in the famous Bal Tabarin, Paris, a scene with much color and movement, where the artist husband, now rich and famous, comes to see a celebrated cocotte, Jeannie Bartet, who bears a striking physical resemblance to Jeannette. The remaining acts serve to show the woman's awakening from the sordid life to a realization of more womaly things. John Cort has given the play a magnificent production. He has also supplied a company of capable players, including E. J Ratcliffe, Harrison Hunter, Brandon Hurt, Harry G. Carlton, Helen Tracy, Lily Cahil, Mlle. Andree Corday and forty other.

New Duquesne—Pittsburg.

Clyde Fitch sparkling comedy, "Girl," with it's charming depiction of facinating feminity, it to be the delightful attraction at the Duquene Theatre netx week, where the Harry Davis Stock player are to present his mirthful play for the first time there in stock and at low prices. "Girls" is one of the most witty and humorous of all the play by the prolific and brilliant playwright. The first act reveals them living in their Adamless Eden in one of the top rooms of a New York flat into which they scarcely allow the janitor himself to poke his nose. Every night they sing their war song, "No Wedding Bells For Me." But one midnight there comes a startling intrusion upon their paradise in the person of a fascinating young man. He comes almost in the guise of a burglar and he does steal the heart of the ringleader of the man-hating trio. One by one the girls fall in love and each has an amusing and delightful little love romance of her own. Mary Hall, Alice Ricker and Laura Kasley will be a winsome trio of girl types at the Duquesne next week, while Mrs. Wheatcroft will play Miss Sear's original part of the spinster. Albert Morrison will have Charles Cherry's character of the giant housebreaking young hero.

The Nixon—Pittsburg

The last visit to Pittsburg of the world's greatest actress, Mme. Sarah Bernhardt, occurs at the Nixon Theatre beginning Wednesday evening, Feb. 22, when she will open her engagement in Rostand's tragic play "L'Aiglon;" Thursday night, February 23, she will be seen in "Camille," Friday, February 24; "La Tosca," Saturday matinee, February 25, "Jeanne d'Arc" and closing the engagement Saturday night with "Sapho." It is quite possible an added matinee will be given on Friday, February 24, the play yet to be announced. Mme. Bernhardt is accmpanied by her own company from the Theatre Sarah Bernhardt, Paris and for the first time brings all of the elaborate scenery and properties which have made her productions so famous in her Paris Theatre

For the accomodation of out of town patrons mail orders will be received when accompanied by check or mon y order payable to the Nixon Theatre and the tickets mailed. The prices for the engagement are 50 cents, not reserved $1, $1.50 $2, and $3.

The regular seat sale will open Saturday, February 18, at 9 o'clock sharp at the box office of the Nixon Theatre.

Buying Food by Mail

A recent development of the mail order business is the buying by mail of food. This system was inaugurated in this section last fall by McCann and Co., of Pittsburg, who sold 10-pound pails of Butterine at $2.00. The effort was so successful that they have decided to extend their plan this year.

As before, they will send you a 10 pound pail of finest Creamery Butterine at $2.00. As this is regular 23c Butterine, and cheap at that; you save 30c on each order.

Offer No. 2 includes the 10-pound pail of Butterine and 5 lbs of 25c Coffee, which they ship for $3.00, saving you 55c on the order.

The third offer takes 10 lbs of Butterine, 5 lbs of 25c Coffee and 1 lb of 60c Tea all for $3.50, or a saving of 85 cents.

A fourth offer includes the 10 lbs of Butterine and 3 lbs. of 40c Tea at $3.00, or a saving of 50c. Take your choice of Ceylon, English Breakfast, Assam, Olong, Japan or Young Hyson teas.

These values are guaranteed and are certain to please you. Send cash for a trial order to McCann and Co., Pittsburg, Pa. They pay express charges to Charleroi and vicinity.

BETTER THAN SPANKING

Spanking does not cure children of bed-wetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W, Notre Dame, Ind., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money, but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child, the chances are it can't help it This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

Genuine Sardines.

Genuine sardines are the young of the pilchard. Their name comes from the fact that they are most numerous off the coast of Sardinia. They swim in the spring in shoals containing millions—fish shaped shoals ten miles long and a half mile wide. The sardines are netted and taken at once to the shore. There they are washed, scraped and sprinkled with salt. The salt is soon removed, the heads and gills cut off and there is another washing. Then, on beds of green brush, the fish are dried in the sun. Next they are boiled in olive oil till cooked thoroughly. The packers—women always—take them now and pack them in the tin boxes we all know, filling up each box with boiling oil, fitting on the lid and making the box air tight by soldering the joints together with a jet of hot steam. Sardines are more or less perfect according as they are prepared more or less immediately after their capture and according as the oil they are packed in is more or less pure.

The Young French Girl.

A young French girl enters the theater with her father. She takes her seat directly in front of the privileged American girls "finishing" their education. Her untouched flowerlike face is alight with anticipated pleasure, with a soft vividness of intelligence that could never be cursed with the word "brainy." Her hair is bound with a little old fashioned snood and tiny buckle; a strangely simple even ing dress covers the exquisite ardor of her slender body. Quickly four faces, the faces of the overindulged, the overprecocious, the overathletic and the overdressed, turn to study her. There is something to learn in this little French maid, whose eyes never meet a man's, who is never allowed to walk alone on the street, whose unconscious grace envelops her like a veil, who is sheltered like a delicate bird, yet trained to the utmost energy, reserve, accomplishment and usefulness.—Atlantic.

Wall Street Superstition.

Almost all the Wall street speculators are superstitious fellows who believe in charms and amulets. In their pockets they carry lucky coins, a rabbit's foot, a horse chestnut or something of the kind. One Wall street man, much envied by his companions, has a short piece of a hangman's rope to conjure with. Many of the customers in the offices are even more credulous than the professional traders in their belief in signs and omens. There is a deep seated tradition that Tuesday is "low day" in a "bull market" and "high day" in a "bear market." Some persons speculate on "systems," and others employ "charts." Once they exploited a machine in Wall street known as a "market register." It was about as effective as helping anybody to win at Stock Exchange speculation as it is to rub up against a hunchback for luck just before you bet on a horse race.—Munsey's Magazine.

He Got Valuable Information.

The story is told of the times of Aretas Blood and the old Manchester locomotive works that a student came to Mr. Blood once and wanted to study the business of locomotive building in his vacation days. The student came well recommended, and Mr. Blood, who never had much use, for these "tech" people, sent him down to the boiler shop and placed him in charge of the old foreman. The old man took the "tech" man around, and in the course of the inspection of the shop they came across one boiler on the inside of which was a man at work.

"How does that man get out?" inquired the "tech" man.

"Oh," said the venerable pilot, "he doesn't get out. We always count upon losing at least one man in building a boiler."—Manchester Union.

Napoleon Obeyed the Mob.

In "The Corsican—A Diary of Napoleon's Life In His Own Words," Bonaparte tells how, as an obscure soldier, he witnessed some of the opening scenes of the revolution: "I lodged Rue du Mail, Place des Victories. At the sound of the tocsin and at the news that the Tuileries were attacked I started for the Carousel. Before I had got there in the Rue des Petits Champs I was passed by a mob of horrible looking fellows parading a head stuck on a pike. Thinking I looked too much of a gentleman, they wanted me to shout 'Vive la nation!' which I did promptly, as may easily be imagined."

When a Great Man Dies.

There can be but austere and serious thoughts in all hearts when a sublime spirit makes its majestic entrance into another life, when one of those beings who have long soared above the crowd on the visible wings of genius, spreading all at once other wings which we did not see, plunges swiftly into the unknown.—From Hugo's Funeral Oration on Balzac.

The Change.

"He used to complain because he never got what he wanted to eat."

"Yes, but he's rich now."

"Yes, and now he complains because he never wants what he gets to eat."—Catholic Standard and Times.

The Unexplained Craving for Liquor

Is Civilization's Greatest Drawback

Your immediate home is possibly untainted by the destructive influence of drink: if so, you are fortunate, as accurate statistics show that 8 per cent of the population of the United States possesses and satisfies a craving for alcoholic stimulant.

Why Not Work With Us:

The Oppenheimer Institute

For the Welfare of Mankind?

Under the OPPENHEIMER TREATMENT the craving for alcoholic stimulants is removed within twenty-four to forty-eight hours. The irresistible nervous impulse of the "Can't-Help-Drinking" kind is entirely overcome, and the patient freed from "THE UNEXPLAINED CRAVING" without distress or detention from business.

No hypodermic injections used and positively no bad after effects caused by the treatment.

If you are interested in bettering some alcoholic who stands in the need of help, send or phone for particulars and literature.

HOW

I Was Cured of Malaria

"I was for over five years troubled with Malarial Fever. It would almost always come on in the Spring and would bother me for the remainder of the summer. I tried different medicines, but they did not seem to help me. I also had the doctor off and on for some time but the next year I would be troubled just the same and I would have to be at home for several weeks. I would be in bed one day and have chills and a heavy fever, and the next day I would be up about the house, and this is the way I would be for several weeks each summer.

"I finally decided to try some good blood medicine, so I began taking Pinkham's Blood Purifier, and found it did me lots of good. I began taking it early in the spring and continued taking it all through the summer. I found, after taking a few bottles, that my body was covered with pimples, and it seemed to drive all the humor out of my blood. After that I felt much better, and now I am just as healthy as ever I was, and I am never troubled with Malarial Fever."—GEORGE P. STRONG, 35 Groveland Street, Lynn, Mass. Thousands of people believe in

Pinkham's Blood Purifier

Malaria is caused by a parasite which gets into the blood, and unless the blood is in a healthy condition and has normal resisting properties, they attack and destroy the red corpuscles, and so seriously impair the general health.

Chills and fever are the most marked symptoms of Malaria, which can be cured by purifying and enriching the blood. Mr. Strong found that Pinkham's Blood Purifier cured him after all other means had failed, and what it did for Mr. Strong it will do for other sufferers.

Mrs. Arthur W. Day has returned from a visit with Mrs. J. K. Tener at Harrisburg.

Miss Nora Riley made a visiting trip to Donora today.

Much amusement was manifested at the Coyle Theatre last night, where the Great McEwen showed the wonders of hypnotism. He had a quartet of young fellows doing the Trilby act; that is, singing under the influence of hypnotism, when they couldn't sing otherwise, and playing banjo accompaniments on brooms and mops. Miss Rose Hartley gave some delightful vocal solos. Mr. McEwen finishes his engagement here tonight.

William Spurgeon, lecturer, appeared at School Hall last night and gave his splendid lecture "John and Johnathan." The lecture might be described as a vivid word picture of what America looks like through an Englishman's eyes, with the unusual unjust criticism left entirely out.

Resolutions of Respect

Charleroi Circle 303 P. H. C. with all of its prosperity and good cheer during the past year is just now mourning the loss of three good faithful, loving and kind hearted sisters, who have been called to the Great Beyond by the hand of the Death Angel and are now numbered among those of that Great Home Circle which never breaks or is severed.

The following resolutions of respect are offered by Charleroi Circle No. 303 of the Protected Home Circle, in memory of the following:

Mrs. Margaret A. Carver, died January 25, 1911.

Mrs. Sarah Thompson, died February 6, 1911.

Mrs. Sarah E. Lindsay, died February 12, 1911.

Whereas, It has pleased the Almighty to remove from among us, three of our worthy esteemed sisters Mrs. Margaret A. Carver, Mrs Sarah Thompson and Mrs. Sarah E. Lindsay, in which we feel a great loss, but bow submissively to His will. Therefore

Resolved, That the sudden removal of such lives from our midst leaves a vacancy that will be deeply realized by all members of our Circle.

Resolved, That with sincere sympathy for the bereaved families and relatives of the deceased, we hereby express our hope that even so great a loss may be overruled for good by Him who doeth all things well.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread uponthe minutes, a copy printed in the local paper and a copy forwarded to the bereaved families.

FEENEY KNOWN BY THE REPORTERS

William Feensy, the new member of Assembly from Charleroi, enjoys somewhat of a distinction at Harrisburg from the fact that he hails from the same town as Governor Tener. Already the familiarity between the two has been noticed when they met, and Assemblyman Feeney has been spotted by the newspaper correspondents, who imagine he can always give them some inside information. Mr. Feeney, who is one of the few practical coal miners on the floor, is watching legislation closely, and his voice is sure to be heard in behalf of the coal miners' interests.

A Miracle Under Orders.

In "The Glory of the Shia World," translated from a Persian manuscript, is a story that will interest Christian scientists.

"Nadir, builder of the 'golden porch of Nadir' in the sacred city of Meshed, was a world conqueror and a lord of perception, albeit cruel. Of his power of perception they relate that one day when he entered the sacred shrine he saw a blind man invoking the aid of the imam, and upon inquiry he learned that he had been there for several months. The great monarch asked him why his faith was so weak that his sight had not been restored and swore that if on his return he found him still blind he would cut off his head. The wretched man prayed so fervently and fixed his mind so intently on the imam that within a few minutes his sight was restored."

Might Be In a Nice Fix.

Two men of Milwaukee were discussing the case of a person of their acquaintance whose obituary, it appears, had been printed by mistake in one of that city's newspapers.

"Oh, ho!" exclaimed one of the Germans. "So dey haf brinted der funeral notice of a man who is not dead already! Vell, now, he'd be in a nice fix if he vas one of dose beeble vot believes everything dey sees in der bapers."—Harper's Magazine.

Sorry He Asked.

"Have you any special terms for automobilists?" asked the man in bearskin and goggles.

"Waal, yes," responded the old tollgate keeper, whose gate had been broken down by speeding machines. "Sometimes I call them deadbeats, an' sometimes I call them blamed rascals. Anything else you want to know, mister?"—Chicago News.

Time to Make a Change.

Sir William Phips was appointed governor in chief of the province of Massachusetts Bay in 1692. During his administration the terrible war against witchcraft raged for some sixteen months. When his own wife, Lady Phips, was named as having exercised the powers of witchcraft Sir William began to view this whole terrible madness in a new light, and he put a stop to all trials and discharged the prisoners then awaiting trial.

Ambiguous.

"Why did you spend so much money on your wife's funeral?" asked a man of a neighbor.

"Ah, sir," was the reply, "she would have done as much for me and more, too, with pleasure."

Sincerity.

Be resolutely and faithfully what you are; be humbly what you aspire to be. Man's noblest gift to man is his sincerity, for it embraces his integrity also.—Thoreau.

FREIGHT CAR AND BIG PASSENGER CAR MEET IN HEAD-ON COLLISION

Eight Persons Injured in Accident Last Night at Riverview Switch Near Monongahela

SIGNALS MISUNDERSTOOD

Cause Supposed to be Due to Mixup at Siding---No One Thought to be Fatally Injured

When a large passenger car of the Pittsburg-Charleroi line and a freight car collided head on last night near the Riverview switch, eight persons were injured. Both cars were demolished The accident occurred at about 5:30 o'clock and a misunderstanding of signals is supposed to have been the cause.

THE INJURED

A. D. Dock, freight messenger, Pittsburg; cut about the face, head and body.

Joseph A. Herron, of Monongahela; cut about the face and head, bruised about the body.

Mrs Joseph A Herron, bruised and cut about the face and head; several teeth knocked out.

A. K. Coulson of Monongahela; bruised about the face, head and legs.

Miss Mary Wilson of Finleyville; lip cut and several teeth knocked out.

J. A. Ruch, Rochester, Pa., nose broken and otherwise injured about the head and face.

Charles Hunter, Pittsburg, cut and bruised, laceration of the scalp.

Miss Jane Mills, Pittsburg; bruised about the face, head and body, taken to her home

The freight car was following another car, which had been passed by the north bound passenger car No. 3001 The north bound car was traveling at a fast rate of speed when it took the siding

When nearing the switch at Riverview Motorman William Wier noticed that a freight car had also taken the siding and was rapidly advancing. He immediately applied the brakes and his car was slowing as it met the freight car, which had Bartley Burke at its motor.

Both motormen escaped serious injury by jumping from the cars Dr. Frank Linn of Monongahela hurried to the scene and attended the injured. He found Dock the most seriously hurt. The man had been thrown among the heavy freight with which his car was laden.

Conductor J. A. Wallace of the passenger car says he had taken the single track, as the signal light permitted. According to his statement the car approaching from an opposite direction would have been shown a red light, warning it against entering the single track.

Bartley Burke, motorman of the freight car, say the light at the northern end of the single stretch was for him to proceed. He had little time, he says, to check the speed of her car, as the meeting occurred on a curve.

Pennsylvania Has Orphanage

Railroad Company Supports School for Children of Employes

Notices have been sent out by superintendents of the various divisions of the Pennsylvania Railroad calling attention to the St. John's Orphanage, No 1722 Rittenhouse street, Philadelphia. The privileges of this orphanage are for the daughters of men who have been killed while in the discharge of their duties in the service of the Pennsylvania Railroad company and affiliated lines.

The St. John's Orphanage was endowed by John Edgar Thomson, late President of the company; it is for girls who are taken under agreement with the mother or guardian, and free of charge given a plain education, taught household work, cooking and sewing.

TOWNSHIP SUED FOR DAMAGES

Washington County Man Asked $15,000 From Rostraver

DAUGHTER IS INJURED

Rostraver township, which adjoins Monessen, has been made defendent in a damage suit for $15,000 by McIlvaine and Williams of Washington representing A F. Dougherty of this county, on behalf of his minor daughter, Miss Mildred Dougherty.

From the papers in the case it is stated that plaintiff's daughter while riding on horseback April 25, 1910 at a point along the road between Webster and Monessen in Westmoreland county, the animal upon which she was mounted by reason of the delapidated condition of a wooden bridge spanning a ravine was thrown, the rider sustaining, it is alleged, injuries of a permanent character.

Rostraver is noted, it is stated for its bad roads, and only a few years ago, Dr. Griffith was awarded damages to the extent of $10,000 on account of an accident, due it is claimed, to the bad roads. Every effort has been put forth recently to have the road in the township improved.

SUPPOSED MAD DOG BITES ALL MEMBERS OF STEVENS FAMILY

Monessen People Taking Pasteur Treatment as Preventive for Hydrophobia-- Small Boys Bitten

Every member of the family of George H. Stevens president of the Monessen council, is taking the Pasteur treatment at Pittsburg owing to having been bitten by a dog supposed to have been afflicted with rabies. A medical examination of the dog after it had died proved it to be mad.

The animal was a pet bull pug pup which the children kept in the house a great deal of the time. William, the eldest son was bitten first. No attention was paid to the matter but several days after a boy by the name of Calvin Kratzer living next door, to the Stevens home was bitten. Then the dog began to show symptoms of rabies. Other members of the Stevens family were bitten. Finally after it had bitten the Kratzer child it went out into the yard and died Each of the family upon the advice of a physician who examined the body of the dog began taking treatment. It will be necessary to take daily trips to Pittsburg for the next three weeks.

Realize Snug Sum by Social

Good Work of Members and Officers Recognized by Protected Home Circle

About $23 was realized last evening by the Protected Home Circle, by a box social. The money will be added to the "Charity Fund." Features were a post card and valentine shower to C. E. Velletay the occasion being his 27th birthday. Local deputy H Booth presented Mr. Velletay—with a fine good fountain pen as a token of appreciation for his good work during the last year.

Several members of the Circle also remembered him with a few much needed articles, and to cap the climax he was presented with a few such things as a wig, hair tonic, brush and comb, some kids, device more than needed by a bald-headed man. Mr Booth was presented with an elegant gold signet ring by the grand and supreme officials for his work in securing 117 new members.

OIL HOUSE KNOCKED BOWN BY STREET CAR

The oil shed at the North end of the Charleroi barn of the Pittsburg Railway barn was torn down yesterday by being struck by one of the big Pittsburg cars. The car was entering the company when it split the switch and hit against the building, which was a brick structure. Considerable damage was done as a result.

ATHENE CLUB ENJOYS INTERESTING PROGRAM

An interesting meeting of the Athene Club was held yesterday afternoon, with Miss Minnie Richardson as the hostess, at her home on Lincoln avenue. Mrs. Thomas Brown discussed "Mineral Wealth of South America." A parliamentary drill was given under direction of Mrs. E. C. Niver. The roll call was answered by giving important dates in South American history.

Negro Charged With Cutting White Man is Sentenced

Page Morris, colored, of Charleroi, was found guilty yesterday of the charge of felonious assault and battery. He is the colored man who so badly cut John M. Ferry at the Hotel Arthur on the evening of February 7 He was sentenced to pay the costs, a fine of $1 and to undergo imprisonment in the workhouse for one year. Dick and Cecil Trippett, also colored, who were mixed up in this trouble, were found guilty of simple assault and battery. They were sentenced to pay the costs, fine of $1 and to undergo imprisonment in the county jail for 30 days.

COAL DIGGERS ARE WONDERFUL SINGERS

The opportunity of hearing such a stellar aggregation of vocalists as the Mountain Ash Male Chorus, which appears at the Coyle Theatre, Monday evening, February 27, is one which rarely falls to the lot of the average concert goer. The organization, as it will sing in Charleroi, is composed of 24 vocalists, together with the conductor and accompanist. Of that number, all but two follow the vocation of a coal miner. Even the conductor, Prof. T. Glyndwr Richards than whom there is none better—has spent most of his lifetime in the mines in his native land, and when at home, follows the occupation of check weigher. John Webber, the capable pianist and accompanist, and a fine performer on the pipe organ as well, is engaged underground as a haulier.

Notwithstanding the fact that the Mountain Ash boys spend their days hundreds of yards down in the bowels of the earth, among the many dangers which usually beset the life of a coal miner, they devote their evenings unstintingly to the study of the better class of music, as well as the cultivation and development of their voices; and by dint of persistent rehersal for many years past, they have ultimately achieved fame all over Europe by their magnificient work as a chorus. The soloists are experienced vocalists, and the combined effort of soloists and chorus will conduce to an evening's enjoyment such as cannot fail to please.

She was cleaning her feet at the doorstep when she lost her balance and fell, breaking the left hip bone.

COUPLE QUIETLY WEDDED

Miss Effie Provance and John Condon are Married

TAKING WEDDING TRIP

After being kept secret for nearly a week the news of the marriage of Miss Effie B. Provance, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Provance of Fifth street and Meadow avenue, and John Condon, a prominent American Steel and Wire employe of Donora, leaked out this morning. The couple were married on last Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock by Rev. W. D. Fries, pastor of St. Jerome's Catholic church, in his parsonage, and the happy couple immediately hied themselves away in the vicinity of Uniontown for a wedding visit with relatives of Mr. Condon After a short visit they will return to reside in Donora.

Miss Provance is a well known and highly esteemed young lady. For about three years she has been employed by the Mail Publishing company. She was highly regarded by her employers as one of their most steady workers. The couple are tendered the congratulations and best wishes of a host of friends.

Feed for the Hungry

The ability of the Ladies of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church in serving Chicken and Noodles has demonstrated several times during the past years They are going to give the public another chance to get some of these good things next Wednesday when their annual Washington Birthday Dinner and Supper will be given. Dinner will be served at 11 o'clock and supper at 4:30. Tickets cost 35 cents, but they are worth more

Committee Will Consist of One Man From Each of Towns Projecting the Scheme

BELLE VERNON MEETING

Representatives From Different Places Attend and Enthusiasm is Aroused---The Probable Cost

Representative from various towns in the valley interested in the new county movement met last night with the Civic League of Belle Vernon and preliminary plans for the campaign in favor of the scheme were developed.

To investigate from all points of view the feasibility of the plan the probable cost, etc, a commission will be appointed, to consist of one man from each of the towns.

It was the general concensus of opinion at the meeting that in case the new county was formed taxation would not be increased to withstand the extra expense, but if anything reduced, owing to the fact of the large amount of live real estate in the territory.

J. B. Schafer and W. C. Clark were present from Charleroi and spoke in favor of the movement H. Dallas McCabe of Monessen outlined the scheme and men from other towns spoke.

REV. RICHARDS PREACHES SERMON TO YOUNG PEOPLE

At the Methodist Church last night Rev. F. A. Richards, preaching on "A young woman's wise choice," said:

"It is better to be in the Lord's land than in the land of strangers. The Christian may have his trials, but he who isn't a Christian has more and worse ones. A man without Christ has to carry his burdens unassisted, while the Christian has an Almighty Help. "There is no room in the soul for more than one God, ye cannot serve God and mammon. A choice must be made. Christ is the best master."

Tomorrow a large number of candidates will be admitted to church membership and the sermon will be especially addressed to them. As there was a full house last Sunday night it is expected that the church will be crowded to its utmost capacity on next Sunday night.

Senseless Objection

Because the Constitution prohibits the State from contracting debt except to "supply casual deficiencies in revenue, repel invasion, supress insurrection, defend the State in war, or to pay existing debts," opposition has sprung up against the proposition to amend the constitution to bond the State for $50,000,000 to build the roads proposed in the Sproul road bill. This bill proposes a comprehensive system of roads constructed and maintained by the State, starting out with improvement of 5,000 miles at one fell swoop. To make these improvements requires the expenditure of a big sum of money, but it is believed that it will be in the interest of good public policy and economy to amend the constitution to borrow this money, in order that the people may have the benefit of the good roads while paying for them.

The opposition that has developed is the same senseless objections that are always interposed when a municipality or county proposes to issue bonds to make needed public improvements. It is not expected that the present generation will bear the entire burden of debt, but that the benefit of the improvements will more than offset the cost of paying interest and providing for a sinking fund as the years go by. As to changing the Constitution—what of it? As the late President James A. Garfield used to say, "The creator is always greater than the creature."

Chickens and Poultry

While the poultry craze that is affecting the people of the towns and villages may not result in materially increasing the egg production as a food product, it may eventually develop the backyard plan of raising chickens, which is essentially a factor in domestic economy. A few chickens in the backyard can usually be kept on the waste of the household, and will produce enough eggs to make their keep a profitable investment.

There is a distinction and a difference between poultry-raising and keeping chickens. Poultry-raising involves big investments in blooded stock, incubators, brooders and other paraphernalia. To feed poultry requires a Philo diet plan, ground bone, "scratch," whatever that may be, ensilage, oyster shell and an additional menu of considerable proportions. Poultry chicks have to be coddled, bathed and [illegible] cut, all of which is well enough for those who have got time to kill and money to burn.

With chickens it different. Chickens have no pedigree. Like the mule, they have no pride in ancestry or hope of posterity. Their pathway of glory does not lead to the bench show, but to the pot or roasting pan. Chickens have nothing to do but to lay eggs, and this they usually do all right. Their feed is the scraps from the table, while their abiding place is usually a piano or a dry goods box. Chickens do their own hatching and brooding, and the young chicks are usually kept in an overturned barrel laid flatways on the ground with some stakes driven in front for slats. If one dies by other means than the axe, or a neighbor's cat or dog kills one, the loss is not irreparable. It is just the plain chicken that is producing the eggs of commerce and utility, and this homely fowl is a commercial asset at any and all times. Poultry-raising is good for show and pleasure, and it of-times starts people into the real chicken business, which adds to the wealth of the community.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

Occasionally old Washington county does pull off a star coal selling stunt.

Whatever may be said against or for Washington, Pa., it certainly can be given the credit of going after industrial plants and getting about what it goes after.

Strange to say it creates more excitement for a man of 90 years to die than it does for a man of 50 years, although it is a more natural thing.

No matter how many times a town fails at supporting a good baseball team, it is ever ready to tackle the proposition again—until it gets a church league.

It has come to such a pass that over in Scottdale, the people shoot at the police as suspicious characters.

If being Chief of Police consists of piling out of bed every blessed night of the year to answer some fool call, thank you, Albright can keep it, and be more than welcome.

A Leisenring miner tried to break a safety lamp while at work. He should at least be learned to be particular about the lives of other people even if he is not about his own.

New York society had a sight of vaudeville and real blood the other night when a young millionaire got himself licked by wishing to fight a pugilist.

Eggs are coming down in price but it's an unanswered problem just what matches are going to do.

Excursions will soon be in order to those Mexican points where the vaudeville warfare is still at its worst.

About one of the hardest jobs making a living at nowadays is being the sparing partner of a professional pugilist. Besides it is a dangerous occupation, considering that the pugilist might some day get in a bad humor.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

A woman, accompanied by a ten or twelve year old lad entered the office of John Jenkins, Esq., recently. She informed the 'Squire that she hailed from Donora, and that she desired a warrant for the one of the school principals there for cruelly beating her son. Mistrusting that the boy only got what was lawfully coming to him, 'Squire Jenkins asked if the boy were marked. In reply the woman unbottened the boy's trousers and produced evidence which the 'Squire called "Exhibit A."

"Whoever did the paddling, did a good job all right," said the justice, "but I suppose the young cub didn't get a lick amiss, so I told the woman she had better enter proceedings at Donora.

"'What would you do first?' she asked.

"'Well' I'd show that exhibit to the school board,' I replied, and the woman departed, declaring that the board would be shown the results of the padding."

"Did you know that there was such a distinction as a western haircut and an eastern haircut?" asked George Young, the well known barber, the other day. "I didn't know this myself until I went to Boston three or four years ago, where I got a job in the State House barber shop. One of my first cutomers for a hair cut was one of the State Senators. I started in as usual and when I began cutting around his ears he gave a yell that nearly scared me out of my shoes.

"'Hi, yi!' he hollered, "I don't want a western hair cut!'

"The boss came running over to my chair, and then I learned that nearly all the eastern men affected 'sluggers' in front of their ears, instead of having their hair cut straight across, as they do in the Pittsburg district. After that I asked each customer if he wanted his 'sluggers' extended or abbreviated."

Speaking of the trials and tribulations of hot air furnaces, Capt. J. K. Hain tells a good story about the experience of the Christian church congregation along that line that occurred when they were in the structure on the hill now occupied by the Russian Orthodox church. The building was heated with a hot air furnace that never did work right. After spending much time and money trying to make the thing heat, the trustees had about decided to throw the furnace out, when C. B. Copeland was called to look it over, as he was the handy man about town when things of that nature went wrong. Mr. Copeland was called, and soon had the furnace in first class shape.

The following Sunday the atmosphere inside was as balmy as a spring morning, although it was nearly zero weather outside. People remained away from the morning service because of the knowledge that the furnace didn't work, but the word was spread abroad that everything was all right, and the evening service was thronged. Everything went along all right until the pastor prepared to administer the rite of baptism to some candidates. When the cover was removed from the baptismal font, a cloud of steam arose, which indicated that the furnace had gotten in its work so well that the water was scalding hot. The baptisms had to be delayed until the hot water could be drawn off and the font refilled with cold water.

So grateful were the trustees that Mr. Copeland was instructed to send in his bill and it would be paid promptly. The items were as follows:

"Material for fixing furnace, $1.50; knowing how, $5.00."

Waterspouts.

A waterspout is a miniature tornado originating in a strong upward draft of air which occurs above the surface of a body of comparatively warm water. Its effect first becomes visible in a circular motion at the point in the clouds to which it ascends. This becomes a whirl, which condenses the vapor at its center, causing the portion of the cloud there to drop downward in the shape of a gigantic jelly bag. At the same time the continuing upward draft increases the rapidity of its original swirl and the condensed vapor caught within it until the ascending and descending masses join to form the waterspout. Necessarily by this process the air beneath the spout is rarefied, and thus where the phenomenon occurs at sea the water always seems to be sucked up into it, although this is not really the case to any considerable extent. For similar reasons where a waterspout or tornado passes over a building it does most of its damage by exhausting the air outside, causing what is within to expand and blow the structure to pieces.

His Good Action.

A little Canadian boy went to bed and then suddenly recollected that he hadn't done one good action that day. His conscience was gnawing at him. He heard a little squeal in the corner of his room, and he got up and released a mouse that had been caught in the trap. Then he gave it to the cat.

HELPFUL HINTS ON HAIR HEALTH

Scalp and Hair Troubles Generally Caused by Carelessness

Dandruff is a contagious disease caused by a microbe which also produces baldness. Never use a comb or brush belonging to some one else. No matter how cleanly the owner may be, these articles may be infected with microbes, which will infect your scalp. It is far easier to catch hair microbes than it is to get rid of them and a single stroke of an infected comb or brush may well lead to baldness. Never try on anybody else's hat. Many a hat band is a resting place for microbes.

If you happen to be troubled with candruff, itching scalp, falling hair or baldness, we have a remedy which we believe will completely relieve these troubles. We are so sure of this that we offer it to you with the understanding that it will cost you nothing for the trial if it does not produce the results we claim. This remedy is called Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. We honestly believe it to be the most scientific remedy for scalp and hair troubles, and we know of nothing else that equals it for effectiveness, because of the results it has produced in thousands of cases.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic devised to banish dandruff, restore natural color when its loss has been brought about by disease, and make the hair naturally silky, soft and glossy. It does this because it stimulates the hair follicles, destroys the germ matter, and brings about a free, healthy, circulation of blood, which nourishes the hair roots, causing them to tighten and grow new hair. We want everybody who has any trouble with hair or scalp to know that Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is the best hair tonic and restorative in existence and no one should scoff at or doubt this statement until they have put our claims to a fair test, with the understanding that they pay us nothing for the remedy if it does not give full and complete satisfaction in every particular. Two sizes 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Charleroi only at our store—The Rexall Store. Carroll Drug Store, 623 Fallowfield avenue.

DANGER IN DELAY

Kidney Diseases Are Too Dangerous for Charleroi People to Neglect

The great danger of kidney troubles is that they get a firm hold before the sufferer recognizes them. Health is gradually undermined. Backache, headache, nervousness, lameness, soreness, lumbago, urinary troubles and dropsy following merciless succession. Don't neglect your kidneys. Cure the kidneys with the safe remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills, which has cured people right here in Charleroi Mrs. Robert Coulter, 207 Prospect avenue, Charleroi, Pa., says: "Some years ago my son contracted the measles and on recovering I noticed that his kidneys were very weak. He had no control over the kidneys secretions and this was especially annoying at night. I had often seen Doan's Kidney Pills highly advertised in the local papers and was finally induced to procure a supply at Piper Bros. Drug Store. I had my son use them according to directions and before long he was greatly benefitted."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

In Memorium

At a regular meeting of Branch No. 782, L. C. B. A., held Wednesday evening, February fifteenth, nineteen hundred eleven, the following resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, It has pleased Almighty God to remove from our midst our beloved sister, Mrs. Catharine O'Connor, who was an active and faithful member of our Branch; and

Whereas, Feeling the loss we sustained in her demise, and the great and irreparable loss to her husband and daughter, it is

Resolved, That we extend our heartfelt sympathy, and pray that our dear Lord in his boundless mercy may comfort them.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the bereaved family, a copy sent to the town paper for publication, a copy spread upon the records of our Branch, and our charter draped in mourning for a period of thirty days.

HAVE YOU TRIED PAXTINE

The Great Toilet Germicide?

You don't have to pay 50c or $1.00 a pint for listerian antiseptics or peroxide. You can make 16 pints of a more cleansing, germicidal, healing and deodorizing antiseptic solution with one 25c box of Paxtine.—a soluble antiseptic powder, obtainable at any drug store.

Paxtine destroys germs that cause disease, decay and odors.—that is why it is the best mouth wash and gargle, and why it purifies the breath, cleanses and preserves the teeth better than ordinary dentifrices, and in sponge bathing it completely eradicates perspiration and other disagreeable body odors. Every dainty woman appreciates this and its many other toilet and hygienic uses.

Paxtine is splendid for sore throat, inflamed eyes and to purify mouth and breath after smoking. You can get Paxtine Toilet Antiseptic at any drug store, price 25c and 50c, or by mail postpaid from The Paxton Toilet Co., Boston, Mass., who will send you a free sample if you would like to try it before buying.

The White Whale.

The white whale, or beluga, is an arctic cetacean and closely allied to the narwhal. It is pure white in color, twelve to eighteen feet long, whalelike in form, with a huge muzzle and numerous sharp conical teeth.

The white whale swims with extraordinary speed by doubling its huge tail under its body and then striking out with it. Scientists who have studied it in its natural environs say that it is able to catch the swiftest of fishes, often pursuing its prey far up the northern rivers. It is gregarious and may be seen at times in herds of forty or fifty.

These herds not infrequently gambol around boats in the arctic seas, and the natives of Greenland often capture them with harpoons or nets. The flesh of the white whale, in fact, is a considerable source of food supply to them. From it also is derived one of the finest grades of commercial oil. The skins are tanned and the leather sold in the trade as "porpoise hide."—New York Times.

AMONG THE THEATRES

The Palace—Charleroi.

A Lubin film photoplay was the leading feature at the Palace Theatre this week This was "A Double Elopment." Walter Thompson and Lilly Brown were in love but Lily's mother refused to allow her daughter to be married. So Walter asked his father to intercede for him. Father was a widower, but he wanted to help his son and readily agreed to see Lily's mother on the subject. Now Lily's mother was a middle-aged widow and very good looking too. When Mr. Thompson saw her, all his scruples against a second marriage disappeared. While the young folks were worrying over the outcome, their parents were carrying on an ardent courtship. They decided to get married, but they would not let their children know of it. Meantime the children had made a similar decision and would not let their parents know of it. Both parties decided to elope. Both Walter and his father, brought their ladders to the house on the same night. Both did the ladder act about the same time and both couples hurried to the minister's. If it hadn't been the same minister, they might never have found each other out. However, as it was, they met blushed, apologized, laughed. Then came the double wedding.

"Just for a Dear Little Girl" a beautiful illustrated ballad, was one of Louis Brusa's popular songs. He has a new one for tonight, When Friendship Turns to Love." "Night and Day" was a beautiful classic song by John Evers, the popular Welsh tenor.

The Coyle—Charleroi

The popularity of Geo. Barr McCutcheon's "Graustark," which in book form was a notably successful one, is cause enough for theatre-goers to wish to see the play which has been dramatized by Geo. D. Baker, with McCutchen's book as the basis

It is many years since a novel of romance reaped such a well earned reputation. The dramatized version has scored equally as great a success as the book due to the clever work of the dramatist, who has followed as closely as possible, the lines and situations evolved by the author in his novel. The story of the two Americans, who, through pluck and grittiness, latent qualities in our people, manage to overcome the many intrigues and plots against them and finally win out the lady each of them is in love with, is a pretty one. Brimful of comedy lines and situations, and a love story of unusual interest, combine to make the play an exceptionally clever one. The locale of "Graustark" lends itself admirably to gorgeus scenic environments, which are further enhanced by the costumes of the country in which the action of the play occurs. The cast is an excellent one, not a member of same being misplaced.

"Graustark" will be the attraction at the Coyle Theatre March 25.

A modern play to be produced at the Coyle Theatre March 22 is called "The Rosary," written by Edward E. Rose and produced by the well known theatrical managers, Messrs. Rowland and Clifford.

Quietly and modestly, with no blaze of trumpets, it projects a quiet word into court a tumoil of opinions, which many believe will revolutionize our ethics of marriage and divorce; as an illustration "The Rosary" takes you into the heart of an American home, such as our homes are today. It shows peace and happiness, then suddenly a canker sore is unmasked—lack of faith in the husband. Slowly little by little is seen the devastating power of atheism, how it saps the strength and breaks the will so that when doubt and suspicion creep in they find fertile soil for the descendants—hatred and revenge. Then comes the spiritual power of a great man—a priest whose life is given to mankind. Slowly he analyzes the situation and leads the husband and wife whom he loves, out of the darkness to happiness and peace.

The Alvin—Pittsburg

Mrs. Leslie Carter will be at the Alvin theatre for the week beginning on Monday night, in the latest successful play, "Two Women" by Rupert Hughes, under the management of John Cort.

"Two Women" affords Mrs. Carter an opportunity to display in one drama all her histrionism, and to display effectively. In the first act she is seen as a poor seamstress, the wife of Count Remy de Margyl, a man who has wasted two fortunes in dissipation, but under the beautiful influence of Jeannette he regains his character and is making a brave effort to relieve the poverty that oppresses them. Just as fortune again smiles upon him, she dies.

The second act shows a room in the famous Bal Tabarin, Paris, a scene with much color and movement, where the artist husband, now rich and famous, comes to see a celebrated cocotte, Jeannie Bartet, who bears a striking physical resemblance to Jeannette. The remaining acts serve to show the woman's awakening from the sordid life to a realization of more womaly things. John Cort has given the play a magnificent production. He has also supplied a company of capable players, including E. J Ratcliffe, Harrison Hunter, Brandon Hurt, Harry G. Carlton, Helen Tracy, Lily Cahil, Mlle. Andree Corday and forty other.

New Duquesne—Pittsburg.

Clyde Fitch sparkling comedy, "Girl," with it's charming depiction of facinating feminity, it to be the delightful attraction at the Duquesne Theatre netx week, where the Harry Davis Stock player are to present his mirthful play for the first time there in stock and at low prices. "Girls" is one of the most witty and humorous of all the play by the prolific and brilliant playwright. The first act reveals them living in their Adamless Eden in one of the top rooms of a New York flat into which they scarcely allow the janitor himself to poke his nose. Every night they sing their war song, "No Wedding Bells For Me." But one midnight there comes a startling intrusion upon their paradise in the person of a fascinating young man. He comes almost in the guise of a burglar and he does steal the heart of the ringleader of the man-hating trio. One by one the girls fall in love and each has an amusing and delightful little love romance of her own. Mary Hall, Alice Ricker and Laura Kasley will be a winsome trio of girl types at the Duquesne next week, while Mrs. Wheatcroft will play Miss Sear's original part of the spinster. Albert Morrison will have Charles Cherry's character of the giant housebreaking young hero.

The Nixon—Pittsburg

The last visit to Pittsburg of the world's greatest actress, Mme. Sarah Bernhardt, occurs at the Nixon Theatre beginning Wednesday evening, Feb. 22, when she will open her engagement in Rostand's tragic play "L'Aiglon;" Thursday night, February 23, she will be seen in "Camille," Friday, February 24; "La Tosca," Saturday matinee, February 25, "Jeanne d'Arc" and closing the engagement Saturday night with "Sapho." It is quite possible an added matinee will be given on Friday, February 24, the play yet to be announced. Mme. Bernhardt is accompanied by her own company from the Theatre Sarah Bernhardt, Paris and for the first time brings all of the elaborate scenery and properties which have made her productions so famous in her Paris Theatre

For the accomodation of out of town patrons mail orders will be received when accompanied by check or mon y order payable to the Nixon Theatre and the tickets mailed. The prices for the engagement are 50 cents, not reserved $1, $1.50 $2, and $3.

The regular seat sale will open Saturday, February 18, at 9 o'clock sharp at the box office of the Nixon Theatre.

Buying Food by Mail

A recent development of the mail order business is the buying by mail of food. This system was inaugurated in this section last fall by McCann and Co., of Pittsburg, who sold 10-pound pails of Butterine at $2.90. The effort was so successful that they have decided to extend their plan this year.

As before, they will send you a 10 pound pail of finest Creamery Butterine at $2.00. As this is regular 23c Butterine, and cheap at that; you save 30c on each order.

Offer No. 2 includes the 10-pound pail of Butterine and 5 lbs of 25c Coffee, which they ship for $3.00, saving you 55c on the order.

The third offer takes 10 lbs of Butterine, 5 lbs of 25c Coffee and 1 lb of 60c Tea all for $3.50, or a saving of 85 cents.

A fourth offer includes the 10 lbs of Butterine and 3 lbs. of 40c Tea at $3.00, or a saving of 50c. Take your choice of Ceylon, English Breakfast, Assam, Oiong, Japan or Young Hyson teas.

These values are guaranteed and are certain to please you. Send cash for a trial order to McCann and Co., Pittsburg, Pa. They pay express charges to Charleroi and vicinity.

BETTER THAN SPANKING

Spanking does not cure children of bed-wetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W, Notre Dame, Ind., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money, but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child, the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

Genuine Sardines.

Genuine sardines are the young of the pilchard. Their name comes from the fact that they are most numerous off the coast of Sardinia. They swim in the spring in shoals containing millions—fish shaped shoals ten miles long and a half mile wide. The sardines are netted and taken at once to the shore. There they are washed, scraped and sprinkled with salt. The salt is soon removed, the heads and gills cut off and there is another washing. Then, on beds of green brush, the fish are dried in the sun. Next they are boiled in olive oil till cooked thoroughly. The packers—women always—take them now and pack them in the tin boxes we all know, filling up each box with boiling oil, fitting on the lid and making the box air tight by soldering the joints together with a jet of hot steam. Sardines are more or less perfect according as they are prepared more or less immediately after their capture and according as the oil they are packed in is more or less pure.

The Young French Girl.

A young French girl enters the theater with her father. She takes her seat directly in front of the privileged American girls "finishing" their education. Her untouched flowerlike face is alight with anticipated pleasure, with a soft vividness of intelligence that could never be cursed with the word "brainy." Her hair is bound with a little old fashioned snood and tiny buckle; a strangely simple evening dress covers the exquisite ardor of her slender body. Quickly four faces, the faces of the overindulged, the overprecocious, the overathletic and the overdressed, turn to study her. There is something to learn in this little French maid, whose eyes never meet a man's, who is never allowed to walk alone on the street, whose unconscious grace envelops her like a veil, who is sheltered like a delicate bird, yet trained to the utmost energy, reserve, accomplishment and usefulness.—Atlantic.

Wall Street Superstition.

Almost all the Wall street speculators are superstitious fellows who believe in charms and amulets. In their pockets they carry lucky coins, a rabbit's foot, a horse chestnut or something of the kind. One Wall street man, much envied by his companions, has a short piece of a hangman's rope to conjure with. Many of the customers in the offices are even more credulous than the professional traders in their belief in signs and omens. There is a deep seated tradition that Tuesday is "low day" in a "bull market" and "high day" in a "bear market." Some persons speculate on "systems," and others employ "charts." Once they exploited a machine in Wall street known as a "market register." It was about as effective as helping anybody to win at Stock Exchange speculation as it is to rub up against a hunchback for luck just before you bet on a horse race.—Munsey's Magazine.

He Got Valuable Information.

The story is told of the times of Aretas Blood and the old Manchester locomotive works that a student came to Mr. Blood once and wanted to study the business of locomotive building in his vacation days. The student came well recommended, and Mr. Blood, who never had much use for these "tech" people, sent him down to the boiler shop and placed him in charge of the old foreman. The old man took the "tech" man around, and in the course of the inspection of the shop they came across one boiler on the inside of which was a man at work.

"How does that man get out?" inquired the "tech" man.

"Oh," said the venerable pilot, "he doesn't get out. We always count upon losing at least one man in building a boiler."—Manchester Union.

Napoleon Obeyed the Mob.

In "The Corsican—A Diary of Napoleon's Life In His Own Words," Bonaparte tells how, as an obscure soldier, he witnessed some of the opening scenes of the revolution: "I lodged Rue du Mail, Place des Victories. At the sound of the tocsin and at the news that the Tuileries were attacked I started for the Carousel. Before I had got there in the Rue des Petits Champs I was passed by a mob of horrible looking fellows parading a head stuck on a pike. Thinking I looked too much of a gentleman, they wanted me to shout 'Vive la nation!' which I did promptly, as may easily be imagined."

When a Great Man Dies.

There can be but austere and serious thoughts in all hearts when a sublime spirit makes its majestic entrance into another life, when one of those beings who have long soared above the crowd on the visible wings of genius, spreading all at once other wings which we did not see, plunges swiftly into the unknown.—From Hugo's Funeral Oration on Balzac.

The Change.

"He used to complain because he never got what he wanted to eat."

"Yes, but he's rich now."

"Yes, and now he complains because he never wants what he gets to eat."—Catholic Standard and Times.

HOW

I Was Cured of Malaria

"I was for over five years troubled with Malarial Fever. It would almost always come on in the Spring and would bother me for the remainder of the summer. I tried different medicines, but they did not seem to help me. I also had the doctor off and on for some time but the next year I would be troubled just the same and I would have to be at home for several weeks. I would be in bed one day and have chills and a heavy fever, and the next day I would be up about the house, and this is the way I would be for several weeks each summer.

"I finally decided to try some good blood medicine, so I began taking Pinkham's Blood Purifier, and found it did me lots of good. I began taking it early in the spring and continued taking it all through the summer. I found, after taking a few bottles, that my body was covered with pimples, and it seemed to drive all the humor out of my blood. After that I felt much better, and now I am just as healthy as ever I was, and I am never troubled with Malarial Fever."—GEORGE P. STRONG, 35 Groveland Street, Lynn, Mass. Thousands of people believe in

Malaria is caused by a parasite which gets into the blood, and unless the blood is in a healthy condition and has normal resisting properties, they attack and destroy the red corpuscles, and so seriously impair the general health.

Chills and fever are the most marked symptoms of Malaria, which can be cured by purifying and enriching the blood. Mr. Strong found that Pinkham's Blood Purifier cured him after all other means had failed, and what it did for Mr. Strong it will do for other sufferers.

Much amusement was manifested at the Coyle Theatre last night, where the Great McEwen showed the wonders of hypnotism. He had a quartet of young fellows doing the Trilby act; that is, singing under the influence of hypnotism, when they couldn't sing otherwise, and playing banjo accompaniments on brooms and mops. Miss Rose Hartley gave some delightful vocal solos. Mr. McEwen finishes his engagement here tonight.

William Spurgeon, lecturer, appeared at School Hall last night and gave his splendid lecture "John and Johnathan." The lecture might be described as a vivid word picture of what America looks like through an Englishman's eyes, with the unusual unjust criticism left entirely out.

Resolutions of Respect

Charleroi Circle 303 P. H. C. with all of its prosperity and good cheer during the past year is just now mourning the loss of three good faithful, loving and kind-hearted sisters, who have been called to the Great Beyond by the hand of the Death Angel and are now numbered among those of that Great Home Circle which never breaks or is severed.

The following resolutions of respect are offered by Charleroi Circle No. 303 of the Protected Home Circle, in memory of the following:

Mrs. Margaret A. Carver, died January 25, 1911.

Mrs. Sarah Thompson, died February 6, 1911.

Mrs. Sarah E. Lindsay, died February 12, 1911.

Whereas, It has pleased the Almighty to remove from among us, three of our worthy esteemed sisters Mrs. Margaret A. Carver, Mrs Sarah Thompson and Mrs. Sarah E. Lindsay, in which we feel a great loss, but bow submissively to His will. Therefore

Resolved, That the sudden removal of such lives from our midst leaves a vacancy that will be deeply realized by all members of our Circle.

Resolved, That with sincere sympathy for the bereaved families and relatives of the deceased, we hereby express our hope that even so great a loss may be overruled for good by Him who doeth all things well.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes, a copy printed in the local paper and a copy forwarded to the bereaved families.

By order of
Charleroi Circle No. 303,
165t1 Protected Home Circle.

FEENEY KNOWN BY THE REPORTERS

William Feeney, the new member of Assembly from Charleroi, enjoys somewhat of a distinction at Harrisburg from the fact that he hails from the same town as Governor Tener. Already the familiarity between the two has been noticed when they met, and Assemblyman Feeney has been spotted by the newspaper correspondents, who imagine he can always give them some inside information. Mr. Feeney, who is one of the few practical coal miners on the floor, is watching legislation closely, and his voice is sure to be heard in behalf of the coal miners' interests.

PLEASANT EUCHRE FOR SPECIAL FUND

The progressive euchre party at Mrs. Harry Ellison's home last evening was a very enjoyable affair. Seventeen tables were in play and a nice sum was realized. The favor were awarded to Mr. Albert Ludwig, Mrs. Patrick J. Connelly, Mrs. Michael J. McGee and John Munch. A dainty lunch was served.

Chas. R. Trew is transacting business in Uniontown today.

A Miracle Under Orders.

In "The Glory of the Shia World," translated from a Persian manuscript, is a story that will interest Christian Scientists:

"Nadir, builder of the 'golden porch of Nadir,' in the sacred city of Meshed, was a world conqueror and a lord of perception, albeit cruel. Of his power of perception they relate that one day when he entered the sacred shrine he saw a blind man invoking the aid of the imam, and upon inquiry he learned that he had been there for several months. The great monarch asked him why his faith was so weak that his sight had not been restored and swore that if on his return he found him still blind he would cut off his head. The wretched man prayed so fervently and fixed his mind so intently on the imam that within a few minutes his sight was restored."

Might Be In a Nice Fix.

Two men of Milwaukee were discussing the case of a person of their acquaintance whose obituary, it appears, had been printed by mistake in one of that city's newspapers.

"Oh, ho!" exclaimed one of the Germans. "So dey haf printed der funeral notice of a man who is not dead already! Vell, now, he'd be in a nice fix if he vas one of dose beeble vot believes everything dey sees in der bapers."—Harper's Magazine.

Sorry He Asked.

"Have you any special terms for automobilists?" asked the man in bearskin and goggles.

"Waal, yes," responded the old toll-gate keeper, whose gate had been broken down by speeding machines. "Sometimes I call them deadbeats, an' sometimes I call them blamed rascals. Anything else you want to know, mister?"—Chicago News.

Time to Make a Change.

Sir William Phips was appointed governor in chief of the province of Massachusetts Bay in 1692. During his administration the terrible war against witchcraft raged for some sixteen months. When his own wife, Lady Phips, was named as having exercised the powers of witchcraft Sir William began to view this whole terrible madness in a new light, and he put a stop to all trials and discharged the prisoners then awaiting trial.

The Way It Happened.

Brother Lobstock—How did yo' all got yo' nose busted? Brother Tump—I done slipped down an' plumb lit on my back. Brother Lobstock — But, name o' goodness, sah, yo' nose isn't located on yo' back! Brother Tump—No, sah, an' needer was Brudder Wack.—Puck.

Ambiguous.

"Why did you spend so much money on your wife's funeral?" asked a man of a neighbor.

"Ah, sir," was the reply, "she would have done as much for me and more, too, with pleasure."

Sincerity.

Be resolutely and faithfully what you are; be humbly what you aspire to be. Man's noblest gift to man is his sincerity, for it embraces his integrity also.—Thoreau.

Too Busy For Repentance.

Singleton—Do you believe in the old adage about marriage in haste and repent at leisure? Wedderly—No. I don't. After a man marries he has no leisure.—Smart Set.

If we gave assistance to each other no one would be in want of fortune.—Menander.
